Invitation,

We cordially invite you to participate in the National Conference on Environmental Ethics and Human Health on 14 & 15 March 2020 at Govt. S.L.P. (P.G.) College, Morar, Gwalior (M.P.).

Aim of the Conference :

There are many new developments in science, technology and industries, that bound to pose benefits as well as risks to the environment and human health. These can be physical such as pollution, toxic chemicals, food contaminants, excessive pesticides & fertilizers and chemical exposure or they can be social such as dangerous work, poor housing condition, poor sanitation & hygiene, urban sprawl and poverty. These hazards increase the risk of cancer, heart diseases, asthma and many other diseases.

Deforestation, waste produced by livestock and carbon emission also put challenges before the mankind. We hope the outcome of this conference will be fruitful in evolving balance relationship between environment and human health. Many scientific, ethical, social and legal issues may put forward in this conference.

Areas/ Topics covered in the conference

1. Environmental Pollution & Its Management
2. Environmental Awareness
3. Conservation of Natural Resources
4. Biodiversity
5. Sensors for Toxic Chemicals and Gases
